

Model Collapse

When AI learns from data made by other AI, each generation gets progressively worse.

If you measure people on...
...the sheer quantity of data
used for training.

Then you might get...
...a system that produces increasingly distorted copies of copies.

